Council Critical of Cable TV Services; Considers Local Development Issues

by Sid Kastner

At the regular city council meeting on Monday evening, November 24, chaired by Mayor Pro Tem Thomas White in the absence of Mayor Gil Weidenfeld, who was out of town, several domestic matters were discussed ranging from a proposed increase in cable TV rates to guidelines for memorials honoring city residents, and including consideration of city questionnaires to obtain citizens' views on a proposed North End Center, and on park needs throughout the Greenbelt area.

Cable TV

The company providing cable TV service to Greenbelt under a city-authorized franchise, Prime Cable, has requested a rate increase on both service "tiers" it provides; the Universal tier, which includes public and community service broadcasts, is presently free except for a start-up fee, and would go up to $7.95 per month, while the more comprehensive "Cable Plus" or satellite service would rise from $11.95 to $13.95. According to the staff's memorandum to council, such increases are allowed under the 1984 Cable Act which ends all cable regulation as of December 29, 1986. At the same time, the city staff is investigating what recourse can be had by communicating with other municipalities and the Prince Georges government.

Mayor Pro Tem White termed this development "most alarming" in view of its effect on the presently free public television service, which "gives access" also to the TV coverage of city council meetings. Council members Ed Putens and Antoinette Bram also expressed negative reactions. Putens saying "I feel we've been sold a bill of goods" because "so many people allowed the cable company to come in and rip through their homes to install the cables." He called for a public hearing on the issue, to deal not only with the rate increase but also with related issues such as Prime Cable's merchandising practices. The latter aspects were mentioned in particular by White who noted that the more expensive service was still apparently being promoted at the original rate instead of the projected higher figure, and by council member Joe Isaacs who questioned the quality of reception actually being provided.

A motion by Putens to schedule a public hearing on the cable TV situation was passed, with staff being authorized to send letters to Prime Cable and company executive Winfield Kelly expressing the city's concerns.

City Development

has contacted the city regarding a permit to build an addition near the present shoe repair shop. City manager James Giese told council that he informed the owner's representative that the city did not issue building permits, and advised him to take the request to the Advisory Planning Board. White agreed this was appropriate since the APB has the information on the charette plans for the Center.

Staff informed council that project submittals for 1988 Program Open Space funds of about $50,000 must be presented by December 5, and recommended that these funds be used toward acquiring the Shimmel/Steiner properties totaling 5 acres on the south side of the Schrom Hills Park; the total cost may be around $160,000, and could be made up partly from the authorized FY 1987 grant and use of FY 1986 funds previously allocated for a concession stand/shelter at the Attick Park. In response to a question by council member Bram, Giese replied that the city does have the right to purchase the properties. The staff recommendation was accordingly passed on a formal motion.

Questionnaires

A questionnaire drafted by the staff and the Parks and Recreation Advisory Board (PRAB) on city park needs and possible improvements to Schrom Hills Park in East Greenbelt, was scrutinized by council and found acceptable with only minor changes. Another questionnaire drawn up by the Community Relations Advisory Board (PRAB) and city staff, to obtain residents' views on possible options for the North End School, brought more discussion. The first question of this questionnaire will outline four building options, and associated estimated costs, the second will list the various proposed uses and their revenue-producing potential, and a third question will ask how much of a tax increase would be acceptable to maintain a North End Center at the school. Council member Isaacs questioned an ambiguity between assessed value and market value in the treatment of tax rate, for the reader, and felt the questionnaire aspect of the communication was not too clear. He also noted that the "required . . . substantial additional parking" mentioned in the present form of the questionnaire could be provided if the present ballfield behind the school were included. This point was briefly debated, with Giese taking the position that such an inclusion was not practical, while White objected to the manager "putting a worst case" on the parking situation. After White further suggested that the questionnaire should make clear that the full range of cost in options was from the maximum of $1,250,000 down to a low figure of $345,000, the council gave its approval.

Other Items

Another appeal for the COPA liquor license at Beltway Plaza has been denied by the county liquor board, according to manager Giese who noted that city solicitor Robert Manzi successfully argued at the hearing that Mayor Weidenfeld could testify as an "expert witness" for the city . . . A resolution was passed to establish guidelines for memorials to citizens, with a significant change from previous drafts to delete a provision that would have allowed for the memorialization of living citizens . . . In connection with present road resurfacing, Giese clarified that residents' driveways are not normally included unless contiguous areas are broken or damaged . . . council members asked staff to look into a current slowdown in refuse collection.

CRIME WATCH GROUPS, LEADERS RECEIVE GOVERNOR'S CITATION

by Dorrie Bates

Many have said recently that the real spirit behind Greenbelt comes from the people who live here. This was apparent again as two neighborhood organizations, the Lakewood Crime Groups and the Woodland Hills Crime Watch Program, and Dorothy Pyles, who has been involved in crime watch programs throughout the city, were recipients of the Governor's Crime Prevention Award.

The governor's citation was presented at a luncheon in Annapolis on November 24. It cites the recipients' "outstanding dedication to the concept of crime prevention demonstrated by (their) activities designed to prevent and control crime in Maryland."

In addition to the governor's award, the two neighborhood groups, their coordinators Helen Geller and Paul Rall, and base operators Myrna Burchick and Arthur McKinney were honored in a ceremony at the 1986 Greenbelt Labor Day Festival.

Dorothy Pyles became involved in Crime Watch activities in the spring of 1982 when a rash of vandalism and car thefts in her condominium complex motivated her to organize a Neighborhood Crime Watch training program for its residents. By the end of May that year, she had set up a mobile patrol in the Greenbriar Phase III area.

Now, four years later, the group consists of over 30 people who go out on rotating patrols, a base operator who handles the calls, and a coordinator who sets the schedules.

Pyles' involvement does not stop with her own neighborhood. She has been instrumental in helping other groups set up their own neighborhood program, most recently running a training program in the University Square apartment complex. "My great goal is to get everybody in Greenbelt to one training session," she said.

Pyles has also served three years on the Greenbelt Crime Prevention Committee, an advisory group to City Council. In 1985, she received a certificate of appreciation presented by Police Chief Francis T. Hutson on behalf of the residents of Greenbelt. Speaking of her efforts, a police spokesman said: "Mrs. Pyles is truly dedicated to the prevention of crime and the education of her fellow residents in how to better protect themselves."

Lakewood/Woodland Hills

The Lakewood Crime Watch Group was formed in November 1983 after a violent crime took place in their neighborhood. Less than one year later, the Woodland Hills group formed. The two groups have since joined forces to provide patrols covering a total of 178 homes in the two subdivisions.

Hellen Geller is responsible for scheduling the teams of people involved in the patrols. Teams from Lakewood go out for two weeks; then a Woodland Hills team patrols for a week. The teams are in constant contact with a base station operator.

Myrna Burchick is the home base for Woodland Hills, while Art McKinney fills that role for Lakewood. Anything out of the ordinary is reported immediately to the base operator, who then notifies the police if necessary. Burchick says her years as a part of the Radio Emergency Assistance Communication Team (REACT) has helped her assess the situation when a patrol calls in. McKinney is also a REACT operator.

Burchick and McKinney, who were individually nominated for recognition by the governor, received the crime watch award on behalf of their groups at the award luncheon.

The crime watch programs are organized, supported and run by neighborhood residents. According to Officer Patrick McAndrew, who has worked with all the crime watch groups, the volunteers "have given of themselves and provided a valuable service to the community and contributed significantly to the safety and security of their neighbors."

Democratic Club Has Holiday Party

The Roosevelt Democratic Club invites all area Democrats to its annual Holiday Party at the Greenbriar Community Center, Friday, December 19. A short business meeting and swearing in of 1987 officers will begin at 8 p.m.

Carriers Bring Greetings

Around this time of year it is customary for the News Review delivery boys and girls to make personal calls on the homes they service to present Christmas cards and greetings. The News Review's financial position is such that we cannot pay our carriers very high remuneration. They are therefore dependent on generous holiday donations to supplement their nominal pay.

Most of the carriers range in age from pre-teen to the middle-teens. For the younger boys and girls, delivering the News Review is their first job experience. Many of the older carriers started at a young age and continue to deliver the News Review mainly as a service to their neighborhood. It is a learning process for all these youngsters and, in some cases, the instillation of responsibility takes time and patience.

The holiday season affords us all a chance to show appreciation and to provide encouragement for the efforts of these youngsters and at the same time to show understanding for any failings that might have occurred during the year.

Brand-Penney

Cheryl Brand and Walt Penney, both of Takoma Park, were married December 5. Walt is the son of Walter and Leonie Penney, Northway. Walt is Director of Engineering with Media Cybernetics in Silver Spring. Media Cybernetics is the publisher of such PC software packages as Dr. Halo II and Image-Pro. The bride is a freelance computer programmer, currently working for the Inter-American Development Bank.

The bridal reception and dinner took place at historic Calvert Mansion in Riverdale. The bride's brother, Dean Brand, provided music. The festivities concluded the next day with a champagne brunch at El Torito's.

The groom's sister Olga Garber flew in from Oregon with daughters Leah and Mary. His brother Bernard flew in from Boca Raton, Florida, where he is the Technical Editor of "Exchange", IBM's publication for the PC.

GHI NOTES

The Architecture and Environment Committee will meet Monday, December 15, at 8 p.m. in the GHI Board Room.

The GHI Board of Directors will meet Thursday, December 18, at 8 p.m.

GHI offices will close at noon on Friday, December 19, for the staff holiday party. Emergency maintenance service will be available by calling 474-6011.

Members are reminded that the use of unvented, portable kerosene heaters is prohibited in GHI homes.

Richard Castaldi to Head Zoning & Planning Comm.

Greenbelter Richard Castaldi will chair the zoning and planning committee for the Prince Georges County Council during the forthcoming year, announced newly elected council chairwoman Hilda Pemberton. This is one of three new standing committees Pemberton has set up to replace three former committees. The new committees will have a different scope than their predecessors.

Besides zoning and planning, Pemberton has set up committees on fiscal policy and government operations (to be chaired by Floyd Wilson) and housing and economic development (to be chaired by Jo Ann P. Bell).

Castaldi, a former mayor of Greenbelt, worked for many years for the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission, a post from which he resigned when he was elected to the county council.

Metro Installs New Fareboxes in Buses

Beginning December 5 the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority has installed electronic registering fareboxes in Metrobuses assigned to the Western Metrobus Division.

The new fareboxes accept tickets, tokens and cash, and emit an electronic tone that signals operators and passengers that the proper fare has been paid. Receipts are secure from loss aboard the bus and in the Authority's revenue collection facilities. The fareboxes also provide audit information to the Authority.

Emilio Ciatto

Emilio Ciatto, 77, of 3 Research Rd. died of heart failure on November 29 at Doctors' Hospital in Lanham.

Born in Italy, Mr. Ciatto had been a mechanic who was retired from Pepco.

He is survived by his wife Elda of the home address; son, Arthur; daughters Catherine Ciatto, Sandra Canine and Nancy Murphy; and 10 grandchildren.

Father John Stack officiated at funeral services at the Rendon-Hale Funeral Home in Lanham. Burial was at Resurrection Cemetery.

Roosevelt Groups to Offer Christmas Music Programs

A wide range of vocal and instrumental music will be presented by the Eleanor Roosevelt High School Music Department on Friday, December 12 at 7:30 p.m. at Roosevelt in Greenbelt.

The Symphony Orchestra will offer a classical program of Bach, Beethoven, and Rimsky-Korsakov, as well as Leroy Anderson's popular "Christmas Festival". The Symphony Orchestra will also play for Beltway Plaza shoppers on December 18 at 7:30 p.m. Greenbelt residents playing with the Symphony Orchestra are Leah Choper, Karen Hirsch, Amanda McLaughlin, Kathleen Moien, Sonja Ross, Elizabeth Scriggins, Christopher Allen, Jennifer Erickson, and Janna Patterson.

The Symphonic Band, the largest band at Eleanor Roosevelt with 69 members, and the Concert Band II will also perform. The Jazz Band will play several tunes from the Big Band era.

Soloists for these numbers include Jimmy Harris of Greenbelt. Other Greenbelt members of the Jazz Band are David Nash and Janna Patterson.

The vocal part of the program will include the Women's Choir.

The Concert Choir's all-Christmas program will conclude with the combined choirs and orchestra performing the Hallelujah Chorus. All choir alumni from 1976 to 1985 are invited to join in this combined choir presentation.

Admission to the concert is free and refreshments are available. Call 345-7500 for further information.

Democratic Central Committee to Meet

The Prince Georges County Democratic Central Committee will hold its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, December 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the New Carrollton City Hall located at 6016 Princess Garden Parkway. The public is invited to attend.

Medigap Insurance Report at Library

by Tom Simon

Greenbelt Branch Library has received copies of "Medicare & Medigap: A Senior Citizen Guide to Medicare and Medigap Health Insurance" published by the Maryland Office on Aging and the Maryland Insurance Division. Issued in September 1986, the guide explains what and how much Medicare Insurance covers and how the gaps in Medicare may be covered by Medicare Supplemental Insurance. Charts compare the coverage of policies issued by 20 companies offering this insurance in Maryland.

Limited copies are available to be given away as well as reference and circulating copies from the library's collection. For more information call 345-5800 or TDD 345-0831.

Student Performances End Utopia Theater Workshop

Students in the Creative Dramatics classes at the Greenbelt Arts Center's Utopia Theatre will give a performance as part of their final class.

The performances, Tuesday, December 16 at 4:30, and Wednesday, December 17 at 4:30, are open to anyone. The children, from ages 4-12, will demonstrate some of the improvisations they have worked with, as well as some short plays and songs they have put together. The performances will conclude the seven week workshop conducted by Michael Westberg.

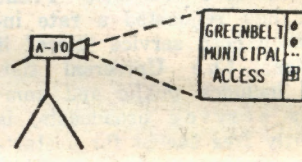

Golden Age Club

by Janet James

The Golden Age Club of Greenbelt enjoyed another delightful lunch at the American Legion Post 136 on December 10 as we do every second Wednesday of the month.

On December 13 the Golden Age Club will join with the Gray Panthers for a Christmas Party in the Gym at the Recreation Center. It is Pot Luck so bring something to eat for yourself and others. It will be from 4 to 6:30 p.m.

Members are asked to be prepared to vote on where to hold the club's birthday party next April. We have to know now so Gertrude Law can make arrangements.

This year when
 Santa visits the Greenbelt

Greenbelt Calendars

A Great Gift. A Wonderful Keepsake.

What: Buy a 1987 50th Anniversary Calendar

Who: Makes a great holiday gift for family, friends, new neighbors, old neighbors, employers, employees, customers, clients and yourself.

Where: Buy it at the City Offices, the COOP grocery store, Greenway Liquors, Realty 1, GHI offices, and Greenbriar offices, and at the Utopia Theater during performances of the Nutcracker.

Why: This is your only opportunity to have or give a calendar made especially for Greenbelt's 50th Anniversary, featuring old and new scenes of the city and marking special dates and events throughout the year.

When: Now is the time to purchase one or more of the calendars. Don't get left out.

Travels of Kate and Cats

(Editor's Note: Katherine Keene recently left Greenbelt where she had lived for many years for a new home in Seattle. She also moved her five cats. A long time News Review staffer, this travelogue was written to the paper and some Greenbelt friends.)

Now that I'm sitting in the living room of the new house — not that at present it is exactly living I'm doing — and it's Sunday evening and some friends had me to dinner so I don't feel so tired I'll get a little news off.

The cats stood the long trip well. They had stopped their incessant mewling and whining when I had been on the road just 27 miles, all seeming to be quiet at once. They drank their water, ate regularly the whole trip. It was too cold at night in Albuquerque to leave them outside (I had expected New Mexico to be warmer) and there again they went back into their quarters without too much complaint. Once in Seattle they have adjusted to their new home well. . .

Otherwise the trip indeed was a long one . . . The morning I left Maryland was lovely. and going through Ohio and eastern Indiana, but the next day was both cold and cloudy . . . Then I ran into hard rain — going through St. Louis was dreadful — and all through Missouri was driving rain. I think the leaves turning might have been lovely but I couldn't see much except the rain pounding on the road. I got to Little Rock after dark. My memories of Little Rock are of a wet, foggy city . . .

I stopped . . . overnight in some sad town claiming to be the hub of western Oklahoma. One thing about Oklahoma is that the the rest stops on Interstate 40 there are both few and far between. . . The next day it got gradually more arid across the Texas panhandle, and tumbleweed was tumbling along the road. It was quite windy. Fewer and fewer trees, and then the dry mesas began and as the terrain got rougher and more mountainous it also got more and more windy. Fortunately my car stayed on the road well (but then it was quite loaded). At one stop my face stung as sand hit it.

Two days in Albuquerque . . . Lovely snow capped mountains almost surround the town. Then spectacular but arid scenery across New Mexico and Arizona — also cold — and on through the Mojave desert, quite awful. Then up the San Joaquin valley, very flat land . . . until in northern California mountains again, especially Mt. Shasta, Oregon was green, looking improbable after all that aridity. It also began to be cloudy, and it rained in Washington, a wet arrival, and today more rain.

Unpacking began . . . when the furniture and such was delivered

THANKS

I wish to thank all our friends, neighbors, police and paramedics for their thoughtfulness and kindness in my hour of need when my husband passed away on November 29.

Also my gratitude for the person who was responsible for finding my letter that was lost on the pathway to the center and mailing it back to me.

Thank you and may God bless you.

Elda Ciatto and family

. . . I feel that it will take years to get things sorted out. I think my kitchen in Greenbelt with practically everything handily in reach far superior to this where I have to put things in cupboards. I suppose it will look neater, but at a price . . . And I'm very tired, still. Packing was tiring, unpacking and putting away tiring. If I'd anticipated all the work I'd have stayed put! I forgot to mention — I drove 4320 miles in all. Also, a lot of people in the U.S. certainly live in bleak towns. N.M. and Arizona especially. So many trucks on the Interstates — trucks and vans/campers/RVs with retired people. Truckers and geriatrics! . . .

Cheers,
Kate

Host Families Needed

The Youth Exchange Service (YES) is presently seeking families interested in having an intercultural experience by hosting a foreign exchange student. Students from Europe, Asia and Latin America go through a rigid process of selection and, therefore, are bright, mature, and most of all, very enthusiastic. The next group of students is due to arrive in December or January and are to stay until the end of the school year.

The host family's responsibility is to provide room, board and love. In return, the student is expected to try and assimilate to the U.S. lifestyle and to become a part of the family. A Maryland representative of YES meets with the family before the student arrives and remains available throughout the visit to offer assistance as needed.

Students have excellent medical insurance and bring their own spending money. The host family may also claim a $50.00 deduction for each month that they host. For more information, please contact: Youth Exchange Service (YES), World Trade Center Building, 350 S. Figueroa St., No. 257-P, Los Angeles, CA 90071, phone: 1-800-848-2121.

Letters to the Editor

Curb the Vandals

This letter is in response to the letter of Robert J. Lewis in which he suggests that the gathering of youth at Roosevelt Center not be curtailed because of youthful behavior. I couldn't agree more.

But certain illegal conduct, whether the offender be 16 or 60, should be suppressed, and in some cases prosecuted.

Since living in Greenbelt, I too, have witnessed the loud obscene language, not only by a few of the youngsters, but by a few oldsters too.

I also saw the public telephones lying on the ground the morning after they had been torn from their fixtures.

I witnessed the trash strewn about the Center the morning after someone found it appropriate to overturn all the trash containers.

I have seen the bleacher seats overturned at the athletic fields. And I often hear of windows being broken at various establishments at Roosevelt Center.

No. The rights of the youngsters to gather at Roosevelt Center should not be curtailed because the perpetrators of illegal acts represent only a small percentage of their numbers.

Maximum effort should be made, however, to identify that small percentage who choose to breach the peace, with a view toward appropriate legal action. Although this may be the responsibility of the police, they can accomplish very little without the cooperation of us who complain.

Walter H. Martin

Simply Wonderful!

I would like to thank all the wonderful people who helped with our first Annual Super Dance USA: The volunteers who gave their time to come out and help us on Super Dance Sunday, the Super Dance Committee who spent many, many hours putting this together, the wonderful merchants of Greenbelt and the surrounding areas who donated food, prizes and gifts to Super Dance, the musicians, disc jockey and the emcees who gave their time, and especially Mayor Gil Weidenfeld, Council member Joe Isaacs and Louis Beall, Lerner Corporation, for making our Super Dance opening official.

We are deeply grateful to everyone who gave of themselves, it was simply wonderful, and we look forward to seeing them all next year at our Super Dance II.

Green Sponsors Legislation To Level Out Tax Windfall

This is in response to the many inquiries I have received regarding the "windfall" the State of Maryland may receive as a result of federal tax reform.

As most Maryland taxpayers are aware, the state income tax law "piggybacks" on federal law and Maryland residents generally can claim the same exemptions on their state income tax as they are allowed under the federal code. At this point, due in large measure to the length and complexity of the new federal statute, there are conflicting reports of the figures involved and their impact on Maryland taxpayers.

There have been specific concerns raised about federal repeal of deductions for contributions to Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs), sales taxes, interest payments and other miscellaneous deductions. These are, of course, valid and important issues.

It is my opinion, however, that the simplest and most equitable way to address these complex tax changes is to raise the personal exemption by $500. I have, therefore, prefled legislation which would raise the state income tax personal exemption from $800 to $1,300. My bill would also restore, at the state level, the additional exemption for those who are over 60 years of age or blind, a provision which was repealed in the federal tax reform measure. . .

Leo Green, State Senator
23rd District of Md.

Open Invitation

I want to express my appreciation to the voters of Maryland who gave me the opportunity to serve them as state comptroller for the next four years.

As has been my practice in the past, I am issuing an open invitation to the people of Maryland to attend my swearing-in ceremonies on Monday, January 26, 1987 at 2 p.m. in the House of Delegates Chamber of the State House in Annapolis.

The people of Maryland have been kind to me throughout my career in public service, and I pledge my continued effort to represent and serve all of the citizens and taxpayers of our state.

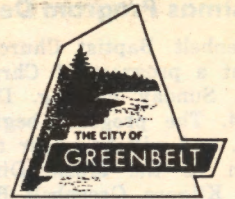

With best wishes for continued success, good health and happiness.

Greenbelt Is Recognized For Pedestrian Safety

Twelve Washington-area communities have been recognized by AAA Potomac for pedestrian safety achievements during 1985. They were among more than 2,600 American cities participating in AAA's annual pedestrian protection program. Among the localities recognized for their fatality-free pedestrian records is Greenbelt, for two years without a pedestrian death.

Washington-area pedestrians are nearly twice as likely as walkers in other parts of the nation to be injured in traffic accidents, an AAA Potomac survey of pedestrian accident statistics in 16 metro Washington jurisdictions reveals. The 16 jurisdictions experienced 96 injuries per 100,000 population in 1985. Nationally, the pedestrian injury rate is 52 per 100,000 people.

Local pedestrian injuries increased 10 percent in 1985 over 1984, while nationally such injuries fell 25 percent. Pedestrian deaths, on the other hand, declined in the Washington area for the first time in four years from 105 in 1984 to 81 in 1985. Nationally, pedestrian deaths rose two percent during the same period.

Police statistics show that the District of Columbia is the jurisdiction where metro walkers are in most peril. The area's other large jurisdictions — Montgomery, Prince Georges and Fairfax counties — with populations similar to the District but with less urban density, had pedestrian records as good as or better than the national average.

Tax Refunds Are Due To Some Greenbelters

The Internal Revenue Service and the Maryland State Comptroller's Office are trying to locate some area residents who are due a tax refund from their 1985 federal and state income tax returns.

According to Teddy R. Kern, IRS District Director for Maryland and the District of Columbia, approximately 2,300 refund checks totaling over $1,063,580 and ranging from as low as $1 to as high as $28,403 were returned by the Postal Service as undeliverable in this area. Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein said 608 state refund checks totaling $56,181 and ranging up to $2,565 were returned.

Anyone who is expecting a 1985 or a previous year's refund, has moved or changed their name during the year, and has not already contacted the IRS, should call 488-3100 in Prince Georges County.

Taxpayers should call 269-3701 to inquire about a Maryland refund check.

Greenbelt residents who are due a return(s) from the IRS:

Charles K. Jett, Jr., Fredrick B. Wagoner, III, Lawrence B. and Marlene Branson, Akram Gouloubamdi, Richard H. Wilson, Brenda L. Terry, James O. Watts, Joel A. Davis, James C. Jackson, Patricia E. Stevens, Alfreda A. Henderson, Von D. Davis, Joseph A. Decd Bello, Marie Taney, Christine G. Carlino, Hanko and Edmund N. Tod Dobi, III, Timothy M. Jackson.

Greenbelt residents who are due a refund from the state are: David A. Feldman, Maryam Galoubandi, Patricia L. Neelson, A. Anvaar Rasool, Fred B. Wagoner, III.

Nominations Are Sought For Productivity Award

Nominations are being sought for the United States Senate Productivity Award in Maryland, Senator Paul Sarbanes announced recently.

"The purpose of this prestigious award is to recognize and honor those persons, companies or organizations in the state who have made significant contributions to productivity improvement while making the quality of working life better," Senator Sarbanes explained. "It is my hope this award will help spur competition and techniques for improving productivity throughout Maryland and the country," Senator Sarbanes continued.

An independent committee, appointed by Senator Sarbanes, will review the nominations and select the recipient of the award. The committee chairman is Dr. Thomas Tuttle.

Deadline for nominations is Thursday, January 15, 1987. Anyone interested in making a nomination for the award should get in touch with Dr. Tuttle, committee chairman, (301) 454-6688 or Charles Stek of Senator Sarbanes' office at (202) 224-4524.

Our Neighbors

Martha Kaufman 474-9359

Congratulations to Beatrix Whitehall, Craig Fitzenreiter, Jacqueline Naclerio, Arthur Parker and Katherine King who recently passed the Maryland State Bar Exam.

Winners of Center School's PTA Book Fair were Lauren Cavanaugh, Leah Lymus, Pamela McIntosh, Jacob Novick, Kate Stratton, Jeff Timer, Peter Timer, and Harrison Wood. Congratulations all!

Former Greenbelter Corine Comulada, who used to type and write for the News Review, visited the office Monday evening. Comulada now lives in Frederick, Md., and she writes for the Frederick Observer, a bi-weekly publication, the main content of which is people, places and events.

Greg Early of Greenbelt recently finished 25th in the Kinney Cross Country Championships Northeast Regional at Van Cortlandt Park, New York. The Kinney Cross Country Championships are the first national championship in all of high school sports.

Ron Burt of Mandan Road was one of the players who won the Ichiban Steak House (Flight B Consolation) Swiss championship at the 1986 Fall North American Bridge Championships in Atlanta, Ga. The event attracted more than 6,000 players.

One point separated top winners. Bob and Ruth, from Pauline and Gary at Friday night's Greenbelt Bridge Club.

All bridge players are welcome to attend the annual Christmas party. All that is needed is a partner and a covered dish. Time is 7 p.m. at the Greenbelt Youth Center. Come join the fun!

Condolences to Elda Ciatto of Research Rd. on the recent death of her husband, Emilio.

Susan Kimberly Kash, currently a senior attending Eleanor Roosevelt High School, represented Prince Georges County in the Maryland Junior Miss Scholarship program which was held on December 6, at Randallstown Senior High School, Randallstown, Md.

Ray and Rose Haber of Westway joined present and past Greenbelters at the Crystal Lake Country Club in Pompano Beach, Florida for the celebration of the 50th wedding anniversary of former Greenbelters Edith and Jack Ratzkin.

They were greeted by former Greenbelters now residing permanently in Florida plus friends and members of the Ratzkin family. Among the highlights was the rendition of "I Love You Truly" sung by Ethel Gerring, and the lively dancing of Ray and Rose.

After visiting friends and family in Miami Beach, the Habers, with Sylvia Fox of Greenbelt and Jules Babiskin of Silver Spring, sailed on the Carnival Cruise Line the Mardi Gras to the Bahamas.

CITY NOTES

The general crew worked on sidewalk replacement last week. Maintenance work was also done on snow removal equipment.

The special details and parks crews worked on pickup of leaves and roadside debris. The parks crew also prepared the city Christmas tree by Sovran Bank.

Joseph Fulton, Parks Crewman IV, has resigned from his position with the city to accept a job with a construction company.

Special trash collection is still behind schedule due to the large number of pickup requests being received.

Nominations Needed Now For Jaycee Award

The Maryland Jaycees each year run two statewide programs to recognize and honor outstanding individuals in the community. The "Ten Outstanding Young Marylanders" (TOYM) program recognizes ten Marylanders, in all fields of endeavor, age 18-35, who have achieved or contributed significantly to the community.

The "Outstanding Senior Citizen" (OSC) program recognizes senior citizens (persons 60 years and older) in the community who are significantly contributing to the community. Judging for both awards will be done by separate blue ribbon panels of citizens.

One or more nominations may be submitted by an individual, organization, association, company, institution or club.

This year the Greenbelt Jaycees are seeking community input in their selection process to nominate people in the community for each of these honors. To make a nomination, please contact one of the following Jaycees: Barbara Barber (441-1010) or Jeff Keir (552-9234). Nominations should be submitted in adequate time for the Jaycees to meet the December 31 deadline for submission to the state organization.

A Scholarship Offered For Minority Students

A full scholarship to the University of Maryland funded by The Baltimore Sun will be awarded to a Maryland minority high school senior who plans a career in journalism.

Scholarship winners also are offered paid summer internships each year at The Sun or The Evening Sun to learn the basics of newspaper reporting and other aspects of the newspaper business.

Interested high school students are required to complete an application by December 31. Finalists will be interviewed by a selection committee in January. The winner will be announced in February.

Applications have been mailed to school principals and counselors around the state. Additional forms are available by writing to Toni Hunter, Human Resources Department, The Baltimore Sun, 501 N. Calvert St., Baltimore, Md. 21278, or by calling 332-6268.

Dyslexic Students Qualify For Research Program

Children's Hospital National Medical Center has a few remaining openings in a research treatment program for dyslexic children.

Interested parents should contact the Department of Behavioral Medicine at 745-5646 or 745-3247 between 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Central Maryland Ballet Theatre will perform the NUT-CRACKER at the Greenbelt Arts Center's Utopia Theater, Friday, December 12 at 7, Saturday, December 13 at 2 and 7 and Sunday, December 14 at 2 and 5. For ticket information call 474-7763.

Middle School News

For the first marking period which ended on November 12, at Greenbelt Middle School 169 students achieved a place on the honor roll. Forty-seven of the 169 had an average of 3.50 or better. Those pupils who made the honor roll during the first grading period will be treated to an ice cream party in December.

GHI Awaits Resolution After Five Years Of Litigation on Contract Termination

by Mavis Fletcher

At the meeting of the board of directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. on December 4, General Manager Ron Colton presented a report on the status of litigation which has been in the courts for several years. According to Colton's memo to the board, the lawsuit was filed against GHI in September 1982 and no final decision has yet been reached. Colton stated that the plaintiff, Beltway Aluminum Supply Company, Inc., had a contract with GHI Development Corporation for the installation of vinyl siding on the frame homes and that GHIDC terminated the contract for what it evaluated as being poor performance.

Beltway Aluminum Supply Company, Inc. brought suit in Prince Georges County Circuit Court against GHI, GHIDC, and five individual former officers and directors of GHI and GHIDC, claiming that the contract had been wrongfully terminated. GHI and GHIDC have contested the lawsuit, maintaining that there was just cause for termination of the contract and that the termination was accompanied in accordance with the terms of the contract.

Colton's report continued that "Beltway amended its complaint in March, 1985 by dropping from the litigation the five individual defendants. The effect was to reduce the scope of the lawsuit and to reduce Beltway's claims from approximately six million dollars to approximately two million dollars. GHI and GHIDC on several occasions have filed motions in circuit court . . . to dismiss the Beltway litigation. . . . Further hearings are being scheduled on GHI's motions."

Colton also reported that GHI has filed for reimbursement of legal fees under the terms of its directors-and-officers liability insurance policy. GHI recently received a partial payment from the insurance company amounting to approximately $110,000. The corporation hopes for final settlement from the insurance company on the claim within the next several months.

More on Parking

The work session with members living in Quadrant I, the first area in which the new parking policy is being implemented (9, 11, 12, 14 and 16 Courts of Ridge and 7-11 Courts of Southway) has been scheduled for December 11. At the board of directors meeting on December 4, the staff presented the plan for Quadrant II, which includes 1-8 Courts of Ridge Road, 1-10 Courts of Crescent and the 1 and 2 Courts of Westway.

This quadrant was described as perhaps the area in GHI with the most plentiful parking. The overall area easily exceeds the goal of 1.85 spaces per unit. All courts except the 6 and 7 Courts of Crescent have enough parking places in the courts for one reserved space per unit. The 6 Court of Crescent is one space short; the 7 Court of Crescent is four spaces short.

Assistant Manager Steve Wright outlined how these shortfalls could be overcome by building additional parking spaces. However, some board members suggested that the question of additional spaces be left to a poll of the court members: if court members do not want reserved parking, the extra spaces would not have to be built. Director Janet Cantwell, however, reminded the board that the new parking policy calls for reserved parking whether the members want it or not. President Margaret Hogensen defended a principle of flexibility, saying the policy "has to have some give in it."

Cantwell also objected to the sections being studied. She said she felt that the 2 Court of Gardenway, where a member petition had started the whole parking review, should be looked at first. She said the staff ought to "go to places where there are problems" and not spend limited funds before the difficult parts of town are even surveyed.

Colton assured the board that (1) no paving would be done without board approval and (2) only very minor work would be done before spring, when all of GHI will have been surveyed. He said that, at the present board pace, he expects the board to be looking at 2 Court of Gardenway in mid-January. Director Chuck Hess defended the method the staff has adopted, saying it makes sense to take adjacent quadrants in an orderly progression.

SLSC Report

Colton reported that the board of the Share Loan Service Corporation (on which GHI has two representatives) had made changes to its bylaws and articles of incorporation which allows SLSC to make share loans in marina cooperatives. Colton's report also indicated that SLSC has increased its housing loan originations to about 2½ to 3 million dollars per month without any increase in operating expenses.

SLSC is actively lending in six areas of the nation and has financed single projects in three others, making it the only truly national cooperative housing lender. Despite start-up costs, he said, SLSC continues to maintain a small profitability for 1986 and has not sold a single loan at a discount in this year.

Colton gave the board a draft of "Consumer Guide to Share Loan Financing," a public information booklet put together by the SLSC staff, which will be available free of charge through SLSC offices.

Other Items

The board passed for first reading an authorization to contract for employees' disability insurance for illness and non-work-related injuries for a cost not to exceed $7,500 for the next year.

Colton brought to the board's attention recent news reports that the Maryland Deposit Insurance Fund, acting as receiver for First Maryland Savings and Loan, will be making payments of about 14-15% of the value of the depositors' accounts. All depositors will be treated equally regardless of the amount of their deposit. Payments on the remaining accounts, which will be tied to the disposition of the S&L's remaining assets, are expected to continue through late 1989. In response to a question, Comptroller Don McGinn indicated that GHI will still have a substantial amount in its frozen account after the current payment.

In response to a question by Director Andrea Haslinger, Colton said that an earlier GHI proposal to use some of its funds on deposit to buy some loans on GHI units held by First Maryland had not been successful because the S&L had already sold at least some of the loans.

Because of the Christmas holiday, the next meeting of the board of directors will be on December 18.

International Night A Huge Success

Countries as far away as Japan and Belgium were represented Wednesday, November 12 as Springhill Lake hosted International Night that brought together one hundred Maryland University students and residents of Springhill Lake. Attendees brought their favorite international desserts to be tasted by all.

Dr. Jud Samon, Coordinator of the International Education Student and Faculty Services (IES), praised the efforts of the University of Maryland and the staff of Springhill Lake to sponsor such an event. "Too often a person from a foreign country is alone and our office serves as a support vehicle." Dr. Samon also noted that Sara Bomberg, a Springhill Lake resident, was the catalyst for weekly coffee hour programs. Bomberg was also the organizer for the International Night.

During the evening, seven year old Sadaf Ahmed, a Springhill Lake resident and native of India, whose name means the "spirit of dance" performed a dance sequence from the movie, "Pakeena."

International Welcome is a kickoff for an International Festival scheduled at Springhill Lake Fountain Lodge, January 24, 1987. A planning meeting for the festival will be held in early December. Call 474-4555 for further details.

D. C. Area Fuel Fund Offers Help, Needs Funds

The Washington Area Fuel Fund (WAFF) is seeking contributions to help needy residents keep warm. In its first three years of existence, WAFF has helped more than 27,000 people pay their heating bills, regardless of the type of fuel used. To be eligible for WAFF, persons must show that they are not eligible for help from government programs or that they have exhausted the aid available to them under those programs.

This year, a new pledge program has been introduced which allows Maryland Natural Gas customers to designate a monthly contribution to be added to their gas bill each month through June. Tax-deductible contributions to WAFF also can be sent to P.O. Box 1999, Washington, D.C. 20013.

To apply for assistance, residents of Maryland should contact: Prince Georges County Corps on 277-6103.

NIH Seeks Volunteers

to participate in this outpatient study please call Joan Folio, R.N., 496-3244, or David Goldstein, M.D., 496-1955. Volunteers will not be hospitalized, but will be asked to visit the NIH Clinical Center at specified intervals

Assistance for Energy Bills Available to Needy People

Over 25,000 Prince Georges County residents are eligible for assistance through the Maryland Energy Assistance Program, however, only one out of five households apply. The Energy Assistance Program helps low-income households, including senior citizens, disabled persons, unemployed, etc. with their heating bills or rent (if heat is included in the rent). The State guidelines have changed to include roomers and boarders.

The average benefit is $300, once per heating season. In addition to a monetary benefit, people are offered protection from service termination during the winter, major weatherization, low-cost weatherization, furnace repairs and much more.

Home interviews will be provided for elderly and disabled persons. Please use the TDD number 699-2668 for the Hearing Impaired.

Don't wait for an emergency! Apply today! Call 699-2662 for more information.

The program opened October 1, and will stay open until March 31, 1987. Tell a friend about it!

Everything About Special Trash

Delays in special trash pickups by the city have led to citizen complaints to Greenbelt's city council. This in turn has resulted in a special report by George E. Smith, Director of the Public Works Dept. The following information is based on Smith's written report to the city manager.

The heaviest day for special trash call-in requests is Monday. The call-in counts for the four Mondays in October were 82, 51, 76, and 62. The average calls for October were 36 per day and 180 per week.

Travel Time Adds Up

Trips to Sandy Hill Landfill by the special trash truck during the first ten months of 1986 went from a low of 23 trips in February to highs of 50 in April and 48 in May, and 45 trips each in September and October.

The trip to the landfill and back to Greenbelt is about 16 miles and takes between 45 and 90 minutes. On many days the truck went to the landfill twice a day. During about 200 to 210 working days the truck made 404 landfill trips. With a work day of eight hours, of which landfill trips consume an average 2 hours, maximum time that can be spent on actual special trash collection is only about six hours each day.

A Stop Every 10 Minutes

The two-man special trash crew picks up trash at about 36 stops during that six hours, or one stop about every 10 minutes. Some of the loads consist of heavy items such as refrigerators, freezers, dryers, and washing machines. Other loads involve light but bulky items such as bagged leaves.

When a Resident Calls

The present method for handling phone calls requesting special trash pickups involves a box of 20 pigeon holes into which the requests are filed by areas of the city. Trash collections are then made based on those areas, working consecutively from area 1 through 20, then starting over again in area 1.

When a resident calls in a request on the same day or the day after pickup is made in that resident's area, then the resident will have to wait for collection until their area is again in turn for pickup. It used to be that collections were made in the order that call-in requests were received. However, this method was abandoned because of two basic flaws: the crews lost time by having to double back and forth throughout the city; and residents who had called in later were complaining because they saw the truck in the neighborhood but it did not stop for their trash.

Women's Soccer Team Clinches League Title

by Sue Cornelius

After years of struggling to field a team and avoid last place, the Greenbelt Women's Soccer Team is bringing home the first-place trophy to its generous and patient sponsor, the Greenbelt American Legion. The team clinched the league title on November 16 by beating "The Ritz" 1-0 in a tough defensive game. Debbie Reese scored the only goal of the game.

This season has definitely been an exciting one—undefeated and scored on only 2 times! The team now has a 9-0-1 record with the final game on Sunday, November 23. It will now move up into the "A" Division of the Columbia Women's Soccer League. The members hope to maintain their winning ways in the spring.

The all-star roster includes Jane Cosner, Julie Jenkins, Debbie Reese, Sue Cornelius, Sheila Wheatley, Janet Krause, Lauren McCarthy, Sherrie Harris, Lynn McKee, Carol Geckle, Stephanie Ashmann, Nancy Tolzman, Anne Herink, Teddy Fields, Lorna Bradley, Wendy McKee Hamilton and Barbara Brown.

All are under the caring and watchful eye of coach and "mother hen" Frank Swahl, who is loved and appreciated for his devotion to the team, his time and energy, and of course, his constant encouragement and praise.

Tips on Learning

The Prince Georges County Federation of Teachers announces the launching of the American Federation of Teachers' Learning Line, a national toll-free phone service. It will provide teachers, parents and students with tips for improving and reinforcing classroom instruction. The service is available on a 24-hour basis. The toll-free number is 1-800-242-5465.

Co-op Education

Prince Georges Community College is currently recruiting both students and employers for participation in the Cooperative Education Program during the spring.

Cooperative Education is available to PGCC students who have at least 15 credits, two courses in the major field and a 2.0 grade point average. It provides practical work experience to supplement classroom learning.

For employers, Co-op provides a source of qualified, prescreened job applicants in 24 different fields. Co-op job developers are available to discuss the program with interested employers.

For more information, call 322-0136.

Police Blotter

Based on Information
Released by the Greenbelt
Police Department

A resident in the 100 block of Julian Court, investigating the sound of something striking the wall of his house about 6 p.m., November 26 found what appeared to be a bullet hole in the outside wall. A lead fragment believed to have been fired from a small caliber weapon was found in the living room.

About 9 p.m., November 26 the restaurant manager at the Godfather's Pizza in Greenway Center found a man hiding in the ceiling of the men's room shortly before closing, apparently intending to rob or burglarize the business after hours. The man fled through a rear door with the manager in pursuit and escaped into a nearby wooded area. He was black, 29 to 32 years, 5'8", 150 lbs., wearing a blue or gray jacket, brown pants and brown boots. He had a small goatee and stuttered when he spoke.

A patron at the Academy 8 theaters at Beltway Plaza reported about 12:20 a.m., November 27 that while watching a movie his coat containing his wallet and car keys was stolen from the seat beside him. The keys were then used to steal his car from the parking lot. The car was recovered the next day in D.C. by Metropolitan Police after the occupants jumped out and escaped. On November 29 some of the contents of the victim's wallet were found in the rear of the Greenway Shopping Center.

About 3:25 p.m., December 2 a 36-year-old resident of the 5800 block of Cherrywood Lane was arrested by the store security officer at the Best Products store at Beltway Plaza after the man was seen concealing a cordless telephone under his coat. After he was placed under arrest outside the store a Black & Decker drill, also stolen, was found concealed in his pants. He was held on $1000 bond on the theft charge and on an outstanding arrest warrant held by the Prince Georges County Sheriff's Department.

While stopped for a traffic light at Kenilworth Avenue and Greenbelt Road about 2:45 p.m., December 3 a female motorist was the victim of an indecent exposure. A man in a car next to hers exposed himself in front of her. A suspect has been identified and investigation is continuing.

Following a stop for a traffic violation about 12:50 a.m., November 30 Officer Jim Donovan arrested a 20-year-old Hyattsville man on Kenilworth Avenue at Ivy Lane for driving without a valid driver's license and possession of suspected cocaine. The suspect also had an outstanding arrest warrant on file with the Prince Georges County Sheriff's Department. He was held on $300 bond.

Officer Robert Keller arrested a 27-year-old D.C. resident about 3:20 a.m., November 26 at Beltway Plaza for distributing a white powder in a plastic zip-loc bag. The man was passing off baking soda as cocaine. The suspect also had an outstanding arrest warrant with the Anne Arundel County police. He was charged with distributing a non-controlled substance and jailed on $5,000 bond.

The Greenbriar condominium boiler plant in the 7800 block of Hanover Parkway was broken into between November 26 and 28 by cutting through a perimeter fence then cutting the bolt on a door. Welding equipment was reported stolen. The suspects were believed to have parked on the Baltimore-Washington Parkway and approached through the woods.

A home on Olivewood Court was broken into through a side door during the late afternoon or early evening of November 28. A TV and VCR were stolen.

A ground floor condominium in the 6900 block of Hanover Parkway was broken into during the afternoon or early evening of November 27 by removing a window. Jewelry was stolen.

Jacobs Drive was broken into during the late afternoon or early evening of December 2 by prying open a rear glass sliding door. The home was ransacked and a VCR was stolen.

During non-business hours on November 28 an unsuccessful attempt was made to break into the Cleaners at Greenway Shopping Center by making openings in the roof. The suspects apparently decided the drop into the store was too hazardous.

An attempt was made to break into a 3rd floor condominium apartment in the 7800 block of Hanover Parkway. The front door had been pried and the lock broken, but entry was not gained.

personal property including a man's wallet stolen about 7:30 p.m., November 28 from an unlocked locker.

On November 26 a white 1983 Buick Riviera, Md. JPC183 was reported stolen from the 9000 block of Breezewood Terrace.

Sgt. Thomas Miskell recovered a stolen '86 Pontiac Fiero about 9:30 a.m., December 1 in the 6200 block of Breezewood Drive. The car had been reported stolen on November 24 to Arlington County, Virginia police.

Greenbelt Grab Bag

by Punchin' Judy

Out of a black hole, into which so many household and personal objects fall, a newspaper has emerged, eighteen years old, dated November 5, 1968. Eighteen years ago, today's college freshmen were infants. Since we've been back to the future, we know that Nixon was elected president that day, but the paper called it a toss-up, with candidate Wallace confusing the issue.

What seemed the big news at the time is never what interests a reader many years later, so I turned eagerly to the less featured stories. There was a war going on, of course, and negotiations with North Vietnam were not going well. On the other hand, things were looking up for the LEM, the lunar landing module, scheduled for a February meeting with the moon.

Local sports fans had something to complain about. The Redskins had lost to the Vikings and the Terps were swamped by Wake Forest. To cheer me up, I decided to look at the comics. How nice to see Pogo again! The Wizard of ID and Beattle Bailey were indistinguishable from the present, and Hi and Lois' baby, Trixie, really should have some testing, since she's still an infant 18 years later.

Turning the page, I found some great food bargains. Capons were $.47 a pound, turkey drumsticks $.28, teabags 100 for $.49, oleo 3 lbs. for $.39. Maybe I should have stocked up.

Clothing was reasonable, too. You could assemble a pretty good wardrobe for $100, and wear it riding around in your $6,000 Cadillac.

The good old days, I hear you say, but wait. Look at the Help Wanted ads, separate for men and women, of course. $100 a week was good pay for a secretary, $6,000 a year excellent for a management position. On the other hand, an estate in Potomac with swimming pool and stable was available for $125,000.

The entertainment pages looked tempting. Promises, Promises, was playing at the National, with prices ranging from $3 to $9.90. The movies listed were pretty much the ones you see now on TV. Television that night was naturally occupied by the election, and "computer generated" information was promised.

I should have read that paper more carefully way back then, and sent away for the booklet "Entomology - An Exciting Scientific Career." With a Ph.D. I could have earned $12,000 a year. Entomology? That's bugs, isn't it?

CARES

Recently, Carol Leventhal participated in the final preparation of recommendations regarding adolescent suicide, to be presented to the County Executive next month. The Prince Georges County Suicide Prevention Taskforce has spent the better part of this past year collecting data and working up the recommendations. Leventhal also attended another presentation on initiatives for children in need in Maryland, put on by Secretary Adele Wilzak, Department of Health and Mental Hygiene.

In November an average week's counseling activities at CARES was as follows: Fifty-four individuals, 23 of whom were under 18, comprised 23 family units.

Springhill Lake Project Is Christmas 'Mitten Tree'

by Lisa Feinberg

Springhill Lake is filled with holiday spirit this year. The apartment development's Fountain Lodge is sponsoring the "Mitten Tree" at the lodge on December 17 from 6 to 9 p.m.

According to Louise Gallun, assistant manager for community relations of Springhill Lake, the "Mitten Tree" is a program in which children donate woolen items such as mittens, scarves, socks and mufflers to less fortunate children in Prince Georges County. The items will be sent to Neediest Children Incorporated (NCI) in the county. Sponsored by the Board of Education, NCI collects money and clothing for county children in need.

The program in Springhill Lake not only gives children the opportunity to bring woolen items and place them on the tree in Fountain Lodge, but those who donate will also be photographed with Santa Claus.

There will also be a coloring contest. Children in Springhill Lake community who want to benefit a picture of a holiday scene with mittens. Then they will bring the pictures to the "Mitten Tree" where judges will evaluate them. Refreshments will also be served.

This particular event is being sponsored by the lodge for the first time. Gallun, who is from the midwest, ran this event in her church. "The kids loved it," she said.

Gallun said the program has been well received in Springhill Lake so far. "People are calling with questions and ideas," she noted.

SHL's "Super Dance" Is a Super Success

The Springhill Lake Teen Club hosted a "Super Dance USA" to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association on November 9. The opening ceremony started this spectacular day with Mayor Gil Weidenfeld cutting the ribbon assisted by Louis Beall of Lerner Corp., City Council member Joe Isaacs and the Super Dance Committee. The Super Dancers were then introduced by Rob Eny, Teen Club Director, and the dance officially began.

Next, a group of young Springhill Lake teens who call themselves D.E.F.F. (a rap group) performed for the entire crowd. They did a rap about Super Dance and Muscular Dystrophy and then a rap against drugs. They continued to perform throughout the day.

The dance continued for 12 hours with a series of guest emcees and a terrific disc jockey, Dave Coburn, from Springhill Lake who played all day long.

Early evening brought the music of "Lickity Split," a live band that performed for the last two hours, and to top the day off a guest appearance by Alvin Blount, University of Maryland football star, who came out to cheer the kids on and to congratulate them for their great effort.

Super Dance USA ended at 9 p.m. with a celebration and prizes awarded to all the Super Dancers. It was a wonderful day and the teens of Springhill Lake raised over $1,000 to benefit Muscular Dystrophy. They are anxious to get to work on their second annual Super Dance.

SHL Youths Offer "No To Drugs" Rap

... I'll give you my opinion, and I won't take it back, Don't do drugs, just go to school, and stay away from crack! ...

Ivan Wiener, age 16

A youth group has formed at Springhill Lake Apartments to protest the use of drugs through a medium called rap. "In every rap, there is a message... It's an expression of feelings, a way to use rhyme to combine the crazy and the serious," said Solomon Parker, otherwise known as "King Solomon." Each member has another name, a rap name, such as "Clino D." for Danny Evans or T.L.C. for Terence L. Coates.

Less than a month before the Springhill Lake Muscular Dystrophy Super Dance in October, these teens organized the rap group to perform at Super Dance. They named their group D.E.F.F., Devastating, Educating, Fascinating, Fury.

"It keeps us out of trouble," said Patrick "Pretty Boy" Heim. "We're all friends."

"I'm going to tell what I do in my spare time! I don't do drugs and I don't drop dimes..."

Football Team Caps Season With County Championship

by Jeff Keir

In a wild, action-packed playoff game at the County Sports Park, before a large and vocal group of fans, the Greenbelt Boys and Girls Club's 95 lb. AA Football team claimed a 25-19 victory and the County's 1986 95 lb. AA Championship from its season-long rival, Bradbury Heights.

The Raiders started the scoring with runningback David Crooks going in for the touchdown on a 2-yard run. The Greenbelt team then took a 12-0 lead with a touchdown by tight-end Michael Sweeney on a 45-yard pass completion from quarterback Brian Smith. By halftime the Bradbury Heights team fought back to a 13-12 lead. At the start of the third quarter, Bradbury Heights scored again putting the Raiders behind 19-12. From there on the Greenbelt defense held Bradbury Heights scoreless.

The Greenbelt team pulled close, 19-18, with a well-executed 58-yard drive capped by a touchdown run by runningback David Crooks. They pulled even with an extra-point conversion pass completion by tight-end Billy Arnold. The pass thrown by David Crooks. Crooks gave the best game performance of the season, putting it together both offensively and defensively. He amassed over 200-yards rushing, including his third touchdown of the day, a spectacular 54-yard run which put the Raiders ahead to stay 25-19. Crooks also had an excellent day on defense, having several key tackles.

On defense, the Greenbelt team had another championship game. Linemen Jason Beach, Matthew Ashurst and the entire defense had a fine game, especially in the second half after the team had fallen behind. Tommy Ray had an inspired game defensively; Matthew Ashurst had his second fumble recovery in two games; Brian Smith had a key quarterback sack, slowing down Bradbury Heights' last drive; and Billy Arnold clinched the victory with a pass interception ending Bradbury Heights last gasp near the Greenbelt goal line just before the end of the game.

It takes the entire team to win a game; 100% team effort the entire season to win a County Championship. Under the expert leadership of Head Coach Wayne Smith, the Greenbelt team did just that. Congratulations go to Head Coach Smith and the entire Greenbelt Boys and Girls Club 95 lb. AA football team on its fantastic championship season.

Stress Workshop To be Held Jan. 7

Stress affects people at different times, but it can especially be a problem during the holidays.

"After holiday time people are stressed out," said Louise Gallun, Assistant Manager for Community Relations for Springhill Lake Fountain Lodge. People have spent a lot of time with family, shopping and spending money. "These are all factors we thought were stressful," said Gallun, explaining why she has put together a stress workshop at the Fountain Lodge.

The guest speaker at the January 7 workshop will be Marcie Walder, clinical social worker with Behavior Service Consultants Incorporated. "The workshop will be an introduction to basic concepts having to do with stress," said Walder. Topics discussed will include how the body responds to stress, how thinking affects stress, and ways interaction affects stress, said Walder.

It will be a very practical workshop, she said, with questionnaires designed to access one's level of stress, she added.

"There are a lot of reasons why we are stressed out," said Walder. "I think people have lost track of themselves in a sense. They don't know how to focus on themselves."

Walder, who is a long-time resident of Greenbelt, has been giving workshops for the past eight years. She has spoken at NASA, FDIC and the National Park Service, among other places.

Walder feels that the workshop

Group Forming for People With Rare Nerve Diseases

A chapter of CMT International, an organization of people with Charcot-Marie-Tooth (CMT) disease, also called Peroneal Muscular Atrophy, is forming in Maryland. CMT is a fairly rare, inherited, neuro-muscular disorder that leaves a person with limited feeling and/or movement in his or her extremities. It can affect persons from the time they are born or not show up until later years. As muscles atrophy, persons with this disease find that they cannot walk well and lose their balance easily, trip often and sprain ankles continuously. Some develop what is known as foot drop and have to walk by throwing their feet out from the side. Muscle in the thumbs usually goes first in the hands and one becomes unable to pick up small objects, open jars and doors, write for any length of time or shake hands without pain. The disease is usually not life threatening but it is serious enough to cause a great deal of frustration and worry. To date there is no treatment or cure. For more information, contact Linda S. Bruder, 1206 Main St., Darlington, Md., telephone (301) 836-3548.

at the Fountain Lodge is especially important. "It is important to contribute to a community you are part of. It is good to be connected with the community," said Walder.

The workshop, open to the public, begins at 7:30 p.m. After coffee and a short movie, Walder will lecture at 8:30 p.m. There will then be a question and answer period.

A MEMO TO MY CUSTOMERS —

From Mr. Johnson, the repair technician to call in this neighborhood when your VCR or TV or HiFi is sick. I do over 90% of my VCR & TV repairwork in your home on one visit. VCR repairs especially should be done in your home, because so many VCR faults are minor, AND/OR RELATED to your TV and antenna. I repair all brands, and visit this neighborhood 3 days each week as well as some evenings and weekends.

THANKS, F. JOHNSON

PLEASE SAVE MY AD.

WEIGHT-LIFTING SET for sale. 130 lb. 3 bars and all fittings. Exc. cond. $30. 474-8196.

DON'T STAND IN LINE in the department stores — come to Greenway SCAN and give a gift that lasts. The elbows will be out of the Christmas sweaters and the batteries fizzled in the electronic gadgets before you know it, but the SCAN furniture will sit there working for you and looking beautiful for years.

Nora Harrington, an eleven-year-old we know, is all finished her shopping. doesn't like it hanging over her head. Take a page from her book and get a move on.

We've still got a few Ervi stereo benches left at $69! Microwave carts are ready to take out. And lazy readers in teak. And computer tables. How about a teak floor lamp for a dark corner?

SCAN has a special gift for co-op members beginning Dec. 14 — an extra 10% off, on selected items (including in stock Jespersen desks, Hazorea bookcases in 4 foot, 5 foot and 6 foot sizes, and NAE computer tables). You must be a member by the 13th. So, if you're not, come in and plunk down a dollar before then. (Don't confuse this membership with your grocery store membership.)

You don't "do" Christmas? Then it's a good time for refurbishing. We have a selection of upholstered chairs at $249 — each that you might not have seen.

If you've read this far we have a present for you! Bring this ad to Greenway SCAN for a free pack of napkins — while quantities last.

Savings & Loan Depositors May Seek Withdrawals

One full year after its inception, Maryland's Hardship Withdrawal Program has authorized the distribution of more than $37 million to savings and loan depositors according to the Maryland Deposit Insurance Fund Corporation (MDIF), which supervises the program.

The Hardship Plan permits depositors who qualify to withdraw funds from their accounts to pay medical bills, emergency medical services, tuition expenses, funeral costs, and basic necessities of life. A special miscellaneous category gives MDIF flexibility to grant additional hardship requests on a case-by-case basis.

Depositors of Old Court, First Maryland and Ridgeway are still eligible to obtain funds through the Hardship Withdrawal Program. Depositors who believe they may qualify should call the Hardship Withdrawal office toll free 1-800-638-6433.

ties last. The only proviso is that you poke around a little bit — no fair parking at the curb.

P.S. Remember we have SCAN gift certificates if you're the better-safe-than-sorry sort.
